Josh Blackmer's Work with the FAMILY

There are two ways to think about the work that Josh Blackmer will begin when he arrives at Palm Beach Lakes. One is to see his work as an evangelist doing family/youth work, and the other is to see it as doing FAMILY/youth work. It is so vital for every member to see the difference between these two concepts. It involves far more than just spelling the word family two different ways, one with all caps.

Before looking at these differences, let us be reminded that the work planned by Josh is vastly different from the full-time youth worker and the work which we have had in the past. The work done by those who have gone before was not wrong. It changed the lives of so many of our teens. I thank God for all that was accomplished and the souls it helped to get to heaven. It was, beyond question, a good work. The new approach will be even better. That work revolved around those young men employed to work especially with our teens. Unfortunately, the work often revolved around that one person who took care of our teens.

Josh's work will not just be family/youth work. While he will make a concerted effort to get every parent of every teen involved in the youth work, it will involve far more than just those few parents who, for a brief time, have children who are teens. Those who are parents must be involved with their children, but Josh's work is far greater than just helping teens and their parents grow spiritually.

Josh's work will be a FAMILY/youth work. We used the concept of all capital letters as we introduced the work to indicate that it involves another family. That FAMILY is the church of the Lord. Our young people need connections with far more than just their peers. They need our young adults to be involved with them and live the Christian life before them. They need role models of those young adults who so recently were teens themselves. But God's FAMILY is made up of older brothers and sisters. Many of our young people have parents who are not faithful Christians, and they all need the association of spiritual parents and grandparents. On the other hand, all of us need our younger brothers and sisters. We are family.

We are not trying to create a family for the youth. We are going to create a family for the FAMILY. Think of all those "one another" verses in the Bible. We are part of a family that sometimes laughs together and sometimes cries together. We are part of a family that dreams together. We care; we share; we bear. Josh is not coming to replace anyone in any role they now have. His work will change the emphasis we have had. His work will definitely impact the youth of the church, but in a greater sense he will be working with the FAMILY.

. . . part of a FAMILY that laughs, cries, dreams, cares and shares together

By David Sproule

The FAMILY Approach to Growth and Maturity

The book of Ephesians paints such a beautiful picture of the church and one worth our perusal, especially in light of the FAMILY/Youth emphasis at PBL.

By the mercy of God, He saved each one of us in the church. God "made us alive together with Christ...and raised us up together, and made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ" (Eph. 2:5-6). "Now...you are...fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household [i.e., family] of God," and fellow Christians are "being fitted together" in a "building" that "grows into a holy temple in the Lord" (2:19, 21). This is a beautiful picture of the unity of the FAMILY of God! Note the emphasis on "togetherness" and "growth."

In chapter 4, Paul continues to emphasize "the equipping of the saints" and the "edifying of the body of Christ" that the FAMILY of God "may grow up in all things into Him who is the Head—Christ—from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by what every joint supplies, according to the effective working by which every part does its share, causes growth of the body for the edifying of itself in love" (4:12-16). This is a beautiful picture of the bond created in the FAMILY of God! Note the emphasis on the "whole" and the "every" involved in the "growth" of the body/family.

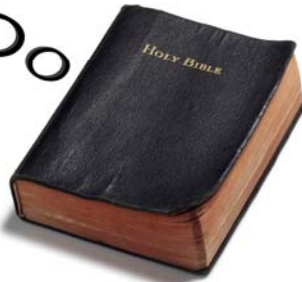

God's design for His FAMILY is that each member/part (old and young) work together with all the other members/parts (old and young) to "grow up into Christ." Growing up into Christ isn't limited to a certain age! Every Christian must continually grow and mature in Christ. So, what can the church do to help all parts (old and young) in this growth?

Growing up into Christ isn't limited to a certain age!

That's where the exciting announcement this last Sunday has its foundation. On Sunday, the elders announced an increased emphasis in a FAMILY/Youth Work at PBL (the word "FAMILY" in ALL CAPS to signify ALL the church family), to help ALL of us (old and young) to grow together (as emphasized in the book of Ephesians). The second part of that exciting announcement is the man they have hired as our Family/Youth Evangelist—Josh Blackmer!

Josh worked with PBL for four years (2004-2008), spent one year preparing for the mission field, and will complete his five-year commitment to the work in Paraguay in September 2014. At that time, Josh and his family will return to PBL and head up our FAMILY/Youth Work, which has as its purpose: "Actively involving the family of God in the faith building of the youth, strengthening of the family unit and edification of the body." These are truly exciting times!

There will be more information forthcoming in the months ahead. Please keep the Blackmers in your prayers.

Just waiting for a reason to pounce?

Some parents' approach to parenting is to wait (even longingly wait) for their children to make a mistake, so that they can pounce on them, tell them what they did wrong and seek to correct it. Some couples' approach to marriage is to wait (even longingly wait) for their spouse to make a mistake, so that the mistake-free spouse can pounce on the mistake-prone spouse, tell him/her what he/she did wrong and seek to correct it. Some Christians' approach to "exhorting one another" among members of the church is to wait (even longingly wait) for their fellow-Christians to make a mistake, so that they can pounce on them, tell them what they did wrong and seek to correct it. Some elders' approach to shepherding is to wait (even longingly wait) for the sheep in their care to make a mistake, so that they can pounce on them, tell them what they did wrong and seek to correct it. Does this sound familiar? Is this your approach? Have you seen this?

Let us not forget that "a word spoken in due season, how good it is!" (Prov. 15:23). And, may our speech be "such as is good for building up" (Eph. 4:29). There is a time for "pouncing" and a time for "correcting," but how much "building up" have we done before that time comes? – DS

It's apparent—not every parent is a parent!

It's a tough job being a parent! The hours: 168 hours a week (and that's only because there aren't 169 hours or more available in a week). The pay: below minimum wage, way below minimum wage; in fact, you have pay to be a parent (instead of getting paid). Hazards: well, there are too many to list (and we don't want to scare off the prospective, not-yet parents).

These are some of the reasons that some men who have "fathered" (i.e., given life to) a child and some women who have "mothered" (i.e., given life to) a child choose to not be a "parent." Of course, there are those who abandon the child and completely disassociate themselves from the child. However, there are some who do not abandon the child but would rather be the child's "friend" or "game buddy" or "shopping girlfriend" than be the child's parent.

Being a parent doesn't mean you can't have fun with your child, but please be the child's parent first. If you don't "parent," no one else will! Every child needs/deserves a devoted parent! – DS
