PHILIPPIANS 4:13

WE CAN

The Importance of Defining Bible Words

Every time we fail to define a word as God used that word in the Bible, we open the door to believing something that God simply did not teach. For example, those who redefine the word “baptism” to include sprinkling allow individuals to believe that infant baptism is what God intended. There is another word, the Hebrew word olam, which is often misunderstood and which leads many to wrong conclusions about what God actually taught.

The Hebrew word is often translated as “eternal,” “perpetual” and “forever.” The Jehovah Witnesses try to find proof here that, while 144,000 will enter heaven, the rest of mankind will be on the earth, for “...the earth abides forever (Hebrew word is olam)” (Ecc. 1:4). The Seventh Day Adventists, who want to find proof that God intended for the Sabbath to be kept even in the Christian age, find the verses which say the Sabbath was to be “a sign between Me and the children of Israel forever (olam)” (Ex. 31:17). The problem is that these denominations fail to understand the word olam (translated as “forever” in these passages above). The Hebrew word does not convey the same meaning as the English word “forever.”

How can we see that this is true? How do we show the true meaning of the Hebrew word olam? It is a simple process. Just look at the other things in the Old Testament which were to abide olam (forever). Just let God define the word.

What things did the Old Testament describe as being olam? Genesis 17:13 affirms that circumcision as a religious act was to abide forever. The same is true of the Passover (Ex. 12:14-17); slavery (Ex. 21:6); the Levitical priest wearing bonnets and girdles (Ex. 29:9); the priests washing their hands and feet as a religious act (Ex. 30:21-22); the entire Levitical priesthood (Lev. 7:34-36); the blowing of trumpets on the first day of every month (Num. 10:8); the perpetual existence of the stones placed at the crossing of the Jordan (Josh. 4:7); and the amount of time Samuel would serve at the temple (1 Sam. 1:22). The word olam is found in every one of the verses listed in this paragraph.

One cannot be honest in selecting verses to support the eternal earth or the eternal Sabbath while denying that the other things no longer are binding. All these things stand or fall together.

Then, what is the meaning of olam? It simply affirms that those things given were intended to be long lasting with no end in sight. It was God’s assurance to Israel that His commands could be trusted by men. They were not temporary. They were established by God, and He alone would determine when they would end.

The Greek word used in the N. T. does convey the same thought as our word forever

Is Your Filter Working?

Our bodies are intricately designed masterpieces, pieced together with precision by the Master Craftsman and Creator! Scientists are still, in many ways, just scratching the surface of understanding the complexity of the human body. Among the myriads of design elements to intrigue the mind are the built-in filters that God put precisely where they were needed, including the liver, the spleen, the kidneys, the lungs, etc. Each filter has its own purpose and function.

There is one filter that may not receive the biological or anatomical attention that other filters receive, but it is, nonetheless, a God-given device which requires our attentiveness, especially as it relates to our Christian lives. The filter in mind here is the one between your thoughts and your words, or between your brain and your mouth. Believe it or not, God inserted a special filter there to perform a special function.

This filter is designed by God to determine which words exit the mouth and which words do not. Or, to say it another way, this filter is designed by God to determine which thoughts are formulated into words, and which thoughts are captured and controlled before they have an opportunity to be transformed into vocal utterances.

The question that each of us must consider is this: “Is your filter working?” Are your thoughts being captured before they become words? There are some life circumstances when we sometimes think that the filter can be disengaged. In the heat of an argument, sometimes we disengage our filter. While engrossed in an intense athletic contest (whether playing or watching), sometimes we turn off our filter. As the aging process takes its effect on the body and mind, sometimes we think that we’ve “lived long enough” or that our “age permits us a little latitude” or that we “need to say it while we can,” and so the filter is deactivated. But, regardless of the circumstances of life, God expects our filter to be properly activated and working.

When you get ready to speak, make sure that your thoughts run through God’s filter before they are converted into words. Are the words you’re about to say: kind (Eph. 4:32), humble (Rom. 12:3), truthful (Eph. 4:25), edifying (Eph. 4:29), gracious (Ecc. 10:12), helpful (Col. 4:6), repeatable (1 Tim. 5:13), positive (Phil. 2:14), courteous (1 Pet. 3:8), pleasant (Prov. 16:24), necessary (Jas. 1:19), pure (Matt. 5:8), commendable (Phil. 4:8), praiseworthy (Phil. 4:8), golden-ruled (Matt. 7:12) and Christ-like (Phil. 2:5)?

Yes, there is a filter that God has designed to stop the words before they exit our mouths. No, there is not any time in the life of a Christian when we can disengage that filter. May God help us to look like Jesus and sound like Jesus!

There is not any time in the life of a Christian when we can disengage that filter!

Are You an Addict?

They were addicted to it, the whole family. I am sure their friends and extended family noticed the changes. There were signs. They were not the same people anymore. They seemed to change. The things they once enjoyed, they stopped altogether. All their thoughts and actions were consumed by their addiction. They withdrew themselves from their normal lifestyle. They did all they could to be around the people with the same addiction. They said that, "They were the only ones that understood what they were going through." They were spending whatever extra money they had for this addiction. They were suffering for this addiction. Society looked down on them and hunted people with the same addiction. This is what the Bible said about this family, "I beseech you, brethren, ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints" (1 Cor. 16:15, KJV).

That is quite an addiction. This addiction changed their lives. They were no longer the same people. "But thanks be to God that though you were slaves of sin, you became obedient from the heart to that form of teaching to which you were committed, and having been freed from sin, you became slaves of righteousness" (Rom. 6:17-18). They could no longer hang out with the same people. "In all this, they are surprised that you do not run with them into the same excesses of dissipation, and they malign you" (1 Pet. 4:4). Their thoughts and actions were consumed by this addiction. "Therefore if there is any encouragement in Christ, if there is any consolation of love, if there is any fellowship of the Spirit, if any affection and compassion, make my joy complete by being of the same mind, maintaining the same love, united in spirit, intent on one purpose. Do nothing from selfishness or empty conceit, but with humility of mind regard one another as more important than yourselves; do not merely look out for your own personal interests, but also for the interests of others. Have this attitude in yourselves which was also in Christ Jesus" (Phil. 2:1-5).

True addicts of Christ and His example are a blessing to those around them.

The addiction this family had was in service to the saints and to Christ, "When did we see You sick, or in prison, and come to You?" The King will answer and say to them, "Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did it to one of these brothers of Mine, even the least of them, you did it to Me" (Matt. 25:39-40). What would you look like if you were addicted to the work of the Lord? What would your family look like? Would people notice your addiction? Paul said of the house of Stephanas that they were helpers, laborers and refreshing both to himself and the Corinthians. True addicts of Christ and His example are a blessing to those around them.

"I don't wanna be a goat! Nope!"

The song from childhood still rings in the ears, "I don't wanna be a goat! Nope! I don't wanna be a goat! Nope! Always livin' without hope! Nope! I don't wanna be a goat! Nope!" There are a number of reasons (including physical ones) that "I don't wanna be a goat!" But, in particular, the nature of a goat does not match the nature of a faithful Christian.

Goats are stubborn and ornery creatures! Try to move them or direct them, and you will often be met with resistance. That is just the opposite of how God describes the demeanor of a Christian—kind, tender, gentle, willing to yield (Eph. 4:32; Phil. 4:5; Jas. 3:17). Goats are also terrible followers! They'd rather be in charge than to follow the lead. Again, just the opposite of the relationship I am to have with my Shepherd—as a faithful follower (John 10:4; 1 Pet. 2:21).

When Jesus returns, he will gather the sheep and the goats before Him (Matt. 25:32-33). Read the words He will say to the goats in Matthew 25:41. "I don't wanna be a goat! Nope!" – DS

"I just wanna be a sheep! Baa!"

Just as much as "I don't wanna be a goat! Nope," I do "just wanna be a sheep! Baa!" Children's songs often teach us more than we realize. "Jesus loves me, this I know, for the Bible tells me so," is about as powerful and meaningful a statement as can will ever cross your lips. So, also, the heart that says, "I just wanna be a sheep!"

Read Psalm 23 and John 10 and your heart will shout, "I just want be a sheep!" I wanna be a sheep so that the Lord is my shepherd. I wanna be a sheep so that I can hear and listen to His voice. I wanna be a sheep so that I can hear Him call my name. I wanna be a sheep so that my Shepherd will make me lie down in green pastures and lead me beside the still waters. I wanna be a sheep because my Shepherd gave His life for the sheep. I wanna be a sheep so that my Shepherd will be with me and so that goodness and mercy will follow me.

"I just wanna be a sheep! Baa! With a Savior who my soul will keep! I just wanna be a sheep!" – DS
