Three Abiding Things

There is a striking contrast the apostle Paul makes in the thirteenth chapter of his first letter to Corinth. He speaks of three temporary things and three things which will abide. The church in Corinth was so enamored by the temporary gifts of tongues, knowledge and prophecy that they had lost sight of three things far more important.

It appears that many in the modern charismatic, Pentecostal movement have elevated their view of these same gifts, and they have failed to understand the message Paul wrote to Corinth. While the modern “tongues” are presented as being the same as those in the first century, such is not the case. Acts chapter two clearly shows that Bible tongues were languages which were spoken by people in various lands of that day. This is not what is being done in this movement.

The chapter opens with an affirmation that those early Christians who actually had the gift of tongues had not reached the highest level of spirituality. There was something far greater than tongues. It was love. Paul taught that if love was not present, the gift had the same impact as a clanging cymbal. The same was true of the gifts of prophecy (inspired preaching) and divine knowledge which was instantly imparted. Without love, these gifts from heaven were useless. The external display of “spirituality” is far different from true spirituality.

Read his words carefully which show the contrast between that which was temporarily part of God’s plan and that which is permanently part of God’s plan. “Love never ends. As for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease, as for knowledge it will pass away” (1 Cor. 13:8, ESV).

These gifts were part of the church when it was in its infancy. Paul showed this when he stated, “When I was a child, I spoke like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I gave up childish ways” (1 Cor. 13:11). God had something far greater than these gifts which were so necessary for the church as it began and part of His plan until the church reached maturity.

What was greater than these temporary things? Look at the last verse. “And now abide faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.” These three qualities of godliness are external and come from a deep spiritual relationship with the Lord.

Think how this principle impacts us all. We are not spiritual simply because we look like Christians on the outside. So study His word and build your faith, and your hope will deepen. “Above all these things put on love” (Col. 3:14).

“Above all these things put on love which is the bond of perfection”

Preaching Like First-Century Christians

As one reads through the pages of the New Testament, there is no doubt that the preaching of first-century Christians is something that deserves our careful inspection and emulation. Their preaching was (1) successful, as individuals from all walks of life and all backgrounds were being converted (Acts 2:5-40; 8:5-13; 9:1-18; 10:1-48; 16:11-40; Phil. 1:13; 4:22). Their preaching was (2) wide-spread, as they literally preached the gospel “in all the world...to every creature under heaven” (Col. 1:6, 23). Their preaching was (3) effective, as it was causing some hardened and staunch unbelievers to persecute faithful Christians (Acts 8:1-3; 9:1-2) and even put them to death (Rev. 6:9; 20:4; Acts 22:20). Their preaching was (4) pleasing to God, as He worked miraculous powers through their hands to confirm their message (Mark 16:20; Heb. 2:3-4), encouraged them in their endeavors (Acts 23:11), stood by their side when no one else did (2 Tim. 4:16-18), and promised them a home in heaven with Him (Rev. 2:10; 14:1-5; 2 Tim. 4:6-8).

What was it about their preaching that made it so successful, wide-spread, effective and pleasing to God? There are many aspects of their efforts that would prove to be beneficial to us in a careful study, but let us consider just one facet: the content of their message. What did they preach?

When, because of intense persecution, Christians were fleeing Jerusalem and Judea, Acts 8 gives us a rather comprehensive description of the content of their preaching. We know that their task was to “preach the gospel,” but what did that entail?

They preached “the word” (8:4). Preaching “the word” involved preaching “the words” given to them by the Lord (John 16:13-15; 17:8), without adding to “the words” or taking away from “the words” (Rev. 22:18-19).

They preached “Christ” (8:5). Preaching “Christ” involved preaching Jesus’ fulfillment of prophecy (Acts 3:13-18), His sacrificial death for the sins of mankind (1 Cor. 15:1-3), His resurrection (1 Cor. 15:4) and His expectations for all (Acts 8:35-36).

They preached “the kingdom of God” (8:12). Preaching “the kingdom” involved preaching the establishment of the Lord’s church (Matt. 16:18-19; Acts 2), the price that was paid for it (Acts 20:28), the means of entrance into it (Acts 2:37-47) and the essentiality of it (1 Cor. 15:24).

They preached “the name of Jesus Christ” (8:12). Preaching His “name” involved preaching by His authority (Acts 4:7-10), that He has all authority (Matt. 28:18), that He is the only means of salvation (Acts 4:12), that He is “Lord of all” (Acts 10:36) and will be “the Judge” of all (Acts 10:42).

Do we preach like first-century Christians preached?

The preaching of first-century Christians deserves our emulation

How Is Your Chihuahua?

She really wanted a Chihuahua puppy. As she crossed the border into Mexico, she thought, “Maybe I’ll find one and rescue it while I’m here.” She bought her normal goods and souvenirs and headed back towards the border. As she was nearing the checkpoint, she couldn’t believe what she saw—a Chihuahua abandoned on the side of the road! She pulled over and carefully put it into a box as it was clearly hurt and suspicious of the woman’s actions. She was determined to rescue the dog no matter how ugly or badly it was hurt. She smuggled her new passenger across the border and went directly to a vet. She explained that she found the Chihuahua on the side of the road, and it was clearly malnourished and hurt. The vet opened the box and gasped, “Ma’am, you have rescued the biggest rat I have ever seen. We don’t do rats.”

She really wanted a Chihuahua, and that was what stuck in her mind. I am sure you’ve done this but maybe not with rats. There was something stuck in your mind, and you saw this thing everywhere. It doesn’t have to be a physical item. It could be that you were treated a certain way, and your expectation was programmed for that same treatment, good or bad, from others. It is amazing what our minds can do to our perception of reality. Everyone passing the lady on the road was wondering why she was rescuing a rat, but she only saw the Chihuahua. It was what she wanted to see.

What happens if your perception of reality is askew when you approach the Bible? Let’s say you’ve been taught and/or believe that the Bible is only a superstitious book for controlling the masses. No more real than Santa Claus or Bugs Bunny. You are not going to take it seriously. Any argument that begins with, “The Bible says...” is easily dismissed as fantasy. You don’t see the rat in front of you. Another perception is that the Bible is good and God is good, all the time. Yet, you believe that there are so many ways to get close to God. Everyone must find their own way to the Creator. You couldn’t possibly dream of telling anyone that their beliefs concerning the Bible are wrong. God doesn’t care. As long as you believe in Jesus, you’re good. Another rat.

How do we know that we are not running with rats in our perception of reality? Do not be afraid to examine what you believe is true. Truth does not hide from examination. “Search the scriptures daily whether those things are so” (Acts 17:11). Our preconceived ideas of reality can keep us from the truth. Saul of Tarsus saw the same thing that everyone else saw and heard the same message from Stephen, yet he did not initially believe (Acts 9:1-2). When he was confronted with the truth he changed. Do you have rats or Chihuahuas?

Our preconceived ideas of reality can keep us from the truth.

Speaking + truth + love = growth

Equations are funny things. They work every time the same way without fail and without exception. One plus one equals two every time without fail and without exception. Bible students know that there are numerous divine “equations” in the Bible, which, as do all equations, work every time the same way without fail and without exception.

One such “equation” is in Ephesians 4:15. Christians are admonished to “no longer be children” but rather, “speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in all aspects into” Christ. Every part of this equation is essential for the desired result. In order for each of us to “grow into Christ” (the intended result), this particular verse requires three constants: (1) Love. If I “have not love, it profits me nothing” (1 Cor. 13:3). (2) Truth. “The truth shall make you free” (John 8:32). (3) Speaking. “For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard” (Acts 4:20).

Do you have all three constants at work? They will work every time without fail! – DS

Remember your Creator now, and please don’t forget!

The wise man Solomon warned about “difficult days” (NKJV), “evil days” (NASB) and “days of trouble” (NIV) in the closing verses of Ecclesiastes. Life has a way of flipping everything upside down, shaking everything really hard and then doing the Hulk-to-Loki smash until our world is completely spinning.

The Bible doesn’t say that those days “could” come but that they are going to “come,” and not just come but “draw near” to you. So, how can you be ready?

Solomon makes it very clear – “Remember now your Creator in the days of your youth” (Ecc. 12:1). I like how the NKJV has the word “now.” Looking to your Creator, putting your trust firmly in your Creator, building an unshakeable bond with your Creator, entering an intimate relationship with your Creator by obeying your Creator is something that you need to do NOW! It cannot wait! It requires our full attention and our full effort...NOW!

How old are you? Better yet, how young are you? The only way to be ready for those evil days coming is establish and fortify your relationship with God NOW! He will help you through! – DS
