Have You Overlooked Something?

God's people had just returned from Babylonian captivity. They had no temple, no priesthood, no altar, and the city of Jerusalem was in ruins. This was far different from the glorious days of the past, and it would have been so easy to be discouraged. The holy city once had a population of hundreds of thousands, but the number of those who returned from captivity was about 50,000. Jehovah knew their thoughts and said to them, "For who has despised the day of small things" (Zech. 4:10)? The intent of His words was to remind Israel that while men might despise small things, our God is the one who has always used "small things" to accomplish His purposes.

The Lord used Gideon's small army to destroy the Midianites. The massive army of the Midianites had come against Israel with an army of at least 135,000. Gideon, having faithfully followed God's instructions about reducing the size of his army, came with his army of 300 soldiers. It would have been so easy to "despise small things" which Gideon used. He was outnumbered four hundred and fifty to one. We must learn to not despise small things when God is involved in using them. Had Gideon's army equaled the size of the enemy's army and won the battle, men could have given glory to Gideon. Read the story in Judges 7, and when you get to the end, all the glory belongs to God!

The Lord used the widow's small bottle of oil to feed her son and Elijah for months and months. The prayer of Elijah had shut the windows of heaven and brought devastation on all the people of the land. At God's instruction, the prophet left Israel and went toward Syria where he met the widow who lived in Zarephath (1 Kings 17). She and her son were dying of starvation, but she took the last oil from her jar and made a cake for Elijah. Miraculously, the oil in the jar kept replacing itself, and the container of flour did not run out until Elijah prayed again. One might despise the small container of oil as insignificant, but God used the small jar to accomplish His work.

The Lord can use the small things you have to accomplish His purposes. You may think you have little which God can use, but you are so wrong. The widow's two mites have taught millions about giving. The rod in Moses' hand parted the Red Sea and brought a river of water flowing from the rocks.

Is it possible we have overlooked "small things" we have? We have added souls to the kingdom from those small business cards and booklets available in the foyer. The friendly warmth at Palm Beach Lakes comes from joyful greetings of many members. The House to House labels and the magnetic bumper stickers have lead the lost to Jesus. Think about it. Are you letting God use your "small things" for His purposes?

God is the one who has always used "small things" to do His work

"Does Your Church?" (Part 5)—The Worship of the Church

Worship is an interesting subject to discuss, as there seem to be so many varied ideas about what is or is not acceptable in worship. Some folks take a very open approach and suggest that "how" one worships really is not all that important, "as long as one is worshipping God." What do you think about that position? Do you honestly believe that it does not matter to God how He is worshiped? Rather than base our conclusions on our own speculation or personal judgments, let's allow the Bible to teach us.

Consider what we read about certain Bible characters worshipping God and what we can learn. We read about worship very early in the Bible (in Genesis 4). Ask Cain and Abel if it really matters how we worship? Scripture states, "And the Lord respected Abel and his offering, but He did not respect Cain and his offering" (Gen. 4:3-5). In that situation, who would you rather be? Cain or Abel? Why? If it doesn't matter how we worship, then why would this statement even be found in the Bible?

What if we were to ask Nadab and Abihu if it matters how we worship (Lev. 10:1-3)? What about King Saul (1 Sam. 13:8-14)? What about King Uzziah (2 Chron. 26:16-21)? What about the Pharisees (Matt. 15:7-9)? Reading each of these accounts individually is instructive. Reading all of them together shouts with one voice, "It matters how we worship!"

More than these examples of worship, Christians have the teaching of Jesus in the New Testament to direct us. Jesus taught, "But the hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father is seeking such to worship Him. God is Spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth" (John 4:23-24). First of all, consider that God is seeking "the true worshipers." That obviously implies that one can be a false worshiper. It also should drive every believer to do whatever is necessary for God to FIND him when He seeks for His true worshipers. Are you one?

There is a standard set out for true worship—it is done "in spirit and in truth." God's Word is "truth" (John 17:17). Therefore, New Testament Christians have no further to look for clear direction in becoming "true worshipers" than to the New Testament itself. Read through your New Testament. That early church partook of the Lord's Supper every Sunday (1 Cor. 11:23-26; 16:1-2; Acts 20:7), sang hymns of praise as a congregation (Eph. 5:19; Col. 3:16), prayed to the Lord (Acts 2:42; 1 Cor. 14:14-16), gave of their means (1 Cor. 16:1-2; 2 Cor. 9:6-8), and enjoyed the preaching of the gospel (Acts 20:7; 2 Tim. 4:2).

The church of Christ seeks to follow this authorized pattern for worship in the New Testament. Does your church?

Do you honestly believe that it does not matter to God how He is worshiped?

Are You Passing it On?

It seems it is difficult to be a father and not use stories or examples to pass on moral codes and life lessons. There are those stories that are intended to teach children to appreciate what they have. They typically start out, “When I was your age...” There are those stories that are conveniently remembered in the moment to enforce a truth or life lesson. They start out like, “You know, that reminds me of...” A similar style is used by Paul with Timothy.

We have two letters that were written to Timothy from Paul. They were written toward the end of Paul’s life and could have been the last letters he wrote. In them, he encourages Timothy to keep on with the charge that was given him—to strengthen the churches and not neglect the gift that was given to him (2 Tim. 1:6). There is an overall theme with these two books that speaks to the encouragement of Paul to Timothy. “You then, my child, be strengthened by the grace that is in Christ Jesus, and what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men, who will be able to teach others also. Share in suffering as a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No soldier gets entangled in civilian pursuits, since his aim is to please the one who enlisted him. An athlete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules. It is the hard-working farmer who ought to have the first share of the crops. Think over what I say, for the Lord will give you understanding in everything” (2 Tim. 2:1-7).

Paul breaks down the work that Timothy was to do with some analogy. He addresses Timothy with love, “my child.” He reminds him of the strength that can be found in the grace of Christ Jesus (2 Cor. 12:9; Phil. 4:13; Heb. 4:16). These same concepts and teachings that he has heard from Paul and heard him publicly proclaim, he is to pass them onto other men who would teach them also. Much of Timothy’s work was a work of replication and repetition. Finally, we are given the three analogies of service. As a soldier, one is to serve with dedication, steadfastness and resolution—not being distracted by the things that would cause one to deviate from the course laid out by the Commander or “the one who enlisted him.” The athlete was to compete according to the rules. In much the same way, we are to live according to the form and pattern that is laid out before us (Rom. 6:17; Phil. 3:17). Finally, the “hard-working farmer” is able to receive fruit from the service that he renders. Paul was possibly eluding to the right that one has to receive material recompensation for the service rendered (1 Cor. 9:3-12; Phil. 4:15).

So Paul, like a father, teaches using these analogies to pass on to Timothy what he should know in his service to God. We also should make every effort to do the same.

“Entrust[ing] to faithful men” should include your children.

“...But I can carry you!”

Near the end of “The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King,” when Frodo Baggins had nearly completed his task of carrying the One Ring into Mordor, he collapsed from sheer exhaustion. He could not go on. His friend, Samwise “Sam” Gamgee, tried to urge him to finish the journey, but Frodo seemed to have lost the strength to reach the end. Finally, his beloved friend, Sam, resolved, “Come on, Mr. Frodo. I can’t carry it for you...but I can carry you!”

Do you have a friend like that? As brothers and sisters in Christ, that is illustrative of the love that we are to have for one another, as we “consider one another” (Heb. 10:24), “serve one another” (Gal. 5:13), “comfort one another” (1 Thess. 4:18), “edify one another” (Rom. 14:19) and “bear one another’s burdens” (Gal. 6:2). How many of our brethren feel like they have lost the strength to go on? Will we be there for them to say, “Come on. I can’t carry it for you...but I can carry you!”? We need friends like that in the church! Conversely, we need to be that friend! Let us all resolve to be like our friend, Jesus, who carries us every day! – DS

“You have not because you ask not!”

You’ve heard of “unanswered prayers,” right? The idea is: (1) “I asked God for this.” (2) “I didn’t get it.” (3) “It’s an unanswered prayer.” Of course, such an approach severely limits God to only see, desire and give us what we want. An answer of “Yes,” then, is the only acceptable response for some, but we must realize that God sometimes answers “No,” or “Not right now,” or “Let me give you something better.” Really, there are no prayers that go unanswered.

While there is no such thing as an “unanswered prayer,” there is such a thing as an “unasked prayer.” James wrote, “You do not have because you do not ask” (Jas. 4:2). Think about that. It begs the question, “Why haven’t you asked?” Jesus said, “Ask, and it will be given to you” (Matt. 7:7). John declared, “This is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. And if we know that He hears us, whatever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we have asked of Him” (1 John 5:14-15). Have you asked? In the right way? With the right motives? If not, don’t be surprised that you do not have! – DS
