Having a True “Happy New Year”

How many times in the last few days have you heard these words, “Happy New Year”? Probably far more than you can remember. These words may have various meanings depending on one’s background and their own personal values. Have you ever considered the spiritual aspects and implications of this phrase?

Jesus’ words in the Sermon on the Mount can so easily help us to see that the Bible speaks of happiness, not just at the beginning of a year, but about true happiness every day of the new year.

Jesus began His first recorded discourse with the Beatitudes. The word “beatitudes” is a Latin word for being blessed. In His sermon, Jesus used the word “blessed” nine times. The Greek word found here is far different from the way we usually define the word. When the angel announced to Mary that she was to bear the Son of God, he said, “Blessed are you among women” (Luke 1:28). The windows of heaven had been opened and the favor of God had been poured on upon the virgin. The Greek word the angel used is not the one found in the Beatitudes.

Defining the word blessed in the Beatitudes. The word blessed in Matthew 5:3-11 indicates happiness and joy. Jesus defined the source of true happiness in this first sermon.

Let heaven define happiness and you are guaranteed a Happy New Year

Who is the one who is blessed (happy)? What avenue should we follow to have true happiness from heaven?

- Have a humble spirit (poor in spirit), not filled with pride
- Learning how to deal with grief (those who mourn)
- Putting others before self (those who are meek)
- Longing to be righteous (hungering and thirsting for it)
- Have a forgiving spirit (those who are merciful)
- Purity of life and soul (pure in heart)
- Sowing peace (being a peacemaker)
- Suffering for doing right (persecuted)
- Reviled (all kinds of evil falsely said about you)

Look at His conclusion. “Rejoice and be exceedingly glad.” Now that’s real happiness!

What is the motivation for seeking this kind of a happy new year? Look at the verses again and pay attention to what awaits us: being part of His kingdom here and in heaven (v. 3); being comforted by heaven (v. 4); possessing the earth in a way the ungodly will never understand (v. 5); filled with His righteousness (v. 6); receiving abundance of mercy (v. 7); seeing God (v. 8); being called God’s child (v. 9); receiving His kingdom (v. 10); being associated with the prophets and having a great reward in heaven (v. 12). Happy New Year!

“Dear Friend, I Found Jesus”

Friend, I hope you can sense how excited I am about these things. I am especially eager to let you know that I found the greatest man who ever lived—Jesus!

I know that people have different ideas about Jesus today. The truth is that Jesus really lived on this earth, and the impact of His life is still resonating two thousand years later. But Jesus was more than just a mere man! I am excited to share with you the evidence that I have found that proves undeniably that Jesus is the Son of God!

First, I found that Jesus fulfilled 332 prophecies that were made in the Old Testament. This fact is just astonishing. The prophecies were specific, detailed predictions made hundreds of years before Jesus was ever born (some more than 1,000 years earlier). One scientist and mathematician calculated that the chance of one man fulfilling just 48 prophecies was 1 in 10¹⁵⁷. But Jesus fulfilled 332 prophecies exactly and completely! There is no human explanation for that! This truth proves that Jesus is precisely who He claimed to be—the promised Messiah of the Old Testament (i.e., “the Christ, the Son of God” [Matt. 26:63-64; cf. Acts 2:36]).

Second, I found that Jesus performed many astonishing miracles. He had power on this earth that was truly supernatural! There is no human explanation for the wonders that Jesus did on this earth! He demonstrated power over nature (like calming a storm), power over disease (like healing the blind), power over demons (by casting them out of people) and power over death (by raising people from the dead). These mighty works were recognized to be the power of God (John 3:2; Acts 2:22), and they proved to every honest observer “Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God” (John 20:30-31).

The evidence that I have found proves undeniably that Jesus is...

Third, I found that Jesus was raised from dead. Jesus died on a Friday afternoon, and to make sure that He was dead, soldiers thrust a spear through His side. Blood and water poured forth. They buried Him in a friend’s tomb, and early on Sunday morning that tomb was empty. While many explanations have been offered for the empty tomb (and even secular historians have had to admit the tomb was occupied on Friday and Saturday, and then empty on Sunday), all human conjecture has failed to explain all of the evidence. The only reasoned explanation for the empty tomb is that God truly raised Him from the dead, which “declared [Him] to be the Son of God with power” (Rom. 1:4).

Jesus was (and is) no ordinary man! All of the evidence, when weighed in the balance, points overwhelmingly to the conclusion that He is the Son of God, which means that He deserves our respect and our obedience. You are important to me, and I wanted to share this with you. (continued next week)

Are You Training for Discernment?

Discernment is a valuable ability. It is not one that you are born with, but it is cultivated with knowledge and practice. This was Paul's prayer of the Philippian church, "And this I pray, that your love may abound still more and more in real knowledge and all discernment, so that you may approve the things that are excellent, in order to be sincere and blameless until the day of Christ" (Phil. 1:9-10). This is something that others have wanted also.

Many believe that the first sin was about fruit, but it was not. The devil said, "For God knows that in the day you eat from it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil" (Gen. 3:5). Eve responded by seeing that the fruit looked good to eat and was able to make one wise (Gen. 3:6). Before this event they were completely innocent. Afterwards, they had the responsibility to discern between what was right and what was wrong. In this case, ignorance would have been bliss.

When Solomon began his rule, he made sacrifices to God in Gibeon (1 Kings 3:3-15). God asked Solomon what he desired from the Lord. Solomon responded, "So give Your servant an understanding heart to judge Your people to discern between good and evil" (1 Kings 3:9). Even at the beginning of his reign, Solomon knew that he needed the ability of proper discernment to rule well the people that God had given him. When he could have asked God for anything, he asked for discernment. God blessed him with wealth and the possibility of prolonged days.

We see this come up again in the New Testament. The writer of Hebrews reprimands his audience for not knowing enough about Melchizedek. After which he states, "For everyone who partakes only of milk is not accustomed to the word of righteousness, for he is an infant. But solid food is for the mature, who because of practice have their senses trained to discern good and evil" (Heb. 5:13-14). It is clear that God expects us to practice and train our senses to be able to discern between good and evil.

The first sin was not about fruit but that paradise was lost over the enticement of the knowledge of good and evil. When Solomon could have asked anything from God he asked for discernment, to rule wisely. Now, with the full revelation of the holy scriptures, we are expected to have that discernment. The question you need to ask yourself is, "What am I doing to train?" Are you practicing this ability and honing it to aide you, and others, in your walk back to paradise? Or are you allowing the days to go by and wishing you were better at discernment? Something that precious is within your reach.

We are expected to have that discernment.

If the majority have done it...

According to a recent poll (and I don't always trust polls, by the way), the majority of American adults (52% of them) have smoked marijuana at some point in their lives. So there you have it! "Everyone else is doing it," as some might suggest, "So it's ok for me to do it, too."

Is that the way it works? If the majority of society smokes pot or drinks alcohol or supports homosexual marriage or refuses to subject themselves to the governing authorities, does that somehow become the standard of right and wrong for everyone else?

The Lord commanded His people, "You shall not follow a crowd to do evil" (Ex. 23:2), and warning us to "not be deceived," for "bad company corrupts good morals" (1 Cor. 15:33). The Bible teaches that we are to "abstain from fleshly lusts which war against the soul" (1 Pet. 2:11), using our bodies, rather, to "glorify God" (1 Cor. 6:19-20). Let us not become so enamored with what everyone else is doing that we fail to "obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29)! – DS

Church for sale

You've seen signs that indicate a house is for sale, or property or a building is for sale, but have you ever seen a sign indicating a church is for sale? Maybe you have. Maybe you've seen a "For Sale" sign in front of a religious complex. But, that's not such a big deal, because it's only the structure that is being sold. What is a big deal is when a church is actually for sale!

But how can an actual church be for sale? This is happening all too frequently today. In an effort to "reach more people" and to "appeal to the masses," some churches are "selling themselves" to whatever the "people" and "the masses" want. The Community Church movement had its origin in asking the community what they wanted in a church (and what they didn't want), and then giving them precisely what they asked for in a church.

Nearly 2,000 years ago the church was "purchased" by the blood of Jesus Christ (Acts 20:28)! He alone has a right to tell the church what He wants! Let's not sell it to anyone else! – DS

Equipping & Edifying Families

Ground Rules for Fighting in Relationships

Every sport needs some kind of referee. A safe and fair contest needs consistently enforced rules. It's never going to be the most glamorous element of the game, but a solid rulebook is still an absolutely critical component. Ask the Packers. They remember 2012, the year marked by the NFL referee lockout. On the final play of Monday Night Football, September 24, the Packers defense protecting a slim lead, Seattle Seahawks receiver Golden Tate pushed off cornerback Sam Shields in order to gain position to make the game-winning catch. But the replacement referees didn't know their rulebooks. They missed obvious offensive pass interference and ruled a simultaneous catch. Touchdown, Seattle. Final score: Seahawks 14, Packers, 12. Ouch. How does a rulebook sound now?

In a similar way, ground rules for fighting fair in your marriage will never be the most appealing aspect of your relationship, but when tension and frustration begin to dominate an encounter with your spouse, you would be wise to have a few prearranged, mutually agreed upon rules in place. Does the idea of rules for fighting sound strange? Some think so; but the energy you spend to generate a couple of basic, inviolate rules for conflict will repay any amount of discomfort you incur upfront.

Keep this in mind, too: Different couples might need their own unique rules. For example, "Never call your spouse by their mom's name." (This can be a spectacularly bad idea.) So you might have different, situation-specific rules for your marriage, but there are a few core rules for any marriage and any fight.

1. No threatening.

This includes physical intimidation, threats of violence, threats of divorce, and ultimatums. Just like rules on the playing field, rules in conflict need to be present in order to keep things safe. Physical and emotional safety are absolutely essential for resolving disputes. Likewise, fighting without safety is both reckless and unloving.

2. Keep it in the present.

Don't bring up old stuff, even if it seems relevant. You'll have time to reflect and address those issues later—after you've finished this disagreement. For example, don't say, "This is so like you! We talked about this very thing last week, and we're right here again!" Far better to keep it in the present by saying, "This—right here and right now—is really bothering me."

3. Don't use inflammatory language.

This is either absolute language ("You always.../You never..."). Or, it can simply be when we intensify our language just to make a point. Going from "That's not reasonable" to "That's the dumbest thing I've ever heard" sets fire to any conversation.

4. No storming out of the room (or house).

You can have a short timeout to collect your cool, but you have to come back at a specific (again, short) time to finish.

5. No cheap shots.

No name-calling, low accusation, words with intent to wound, or simply saying those things you already know are guaranteed to rile your spouse (like calling her by her mother's name.)

Someone once noted, "Conflict is inevitable, but combat is optional." You're going to have disagreements in your marriage. You can, however, keep things safe and clean by developing some rules for how you fight.

"...always abounding in the work of the Lord..." (1 Cor. 15:58)
