Two Kinds of Leaven

It had to be frustrating for the Lord as He tried to prepare the apostles for the time when they would be at the forefront in the growth of the church. An illustration of this can be seen in how those men responded to the words of Jesus. "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the Sadducees." The apostles totally misunderstood what He said about this leaven.

They had just traveled across the Sea of Galilee and had failed to bring any bread with them. When Jesus mentioned leaven, they immediately thought He was talking about this. However, our Lord had far more in mind than actual bread.

Jesus first reminded them that they were not dependent on ordinary means to find food. They had just fed five thousand men and then four thousand men with just a few loaves and fish. Jesus asked them to recall these two miracles, and the apostles began to finally understand that this kind of bread was not what he was discussing.

It was not actual bread, but the false teachings of the Jewish leaders He was discussing. "Then they understood that He did not tell them to beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees" (Matt. 16:5). False teaching is so much like leaven.

The teaching of false doctrines is devastating to an entire church or nation

Think of how often the Bible mentions that a little leaven leavens the entire loaf. It does not take large quantities of leaven to impact everything that is around it. It does not take large quantities of false teaching to bring disaster into the lives of men. Sometimes we so easily overlook this.

When you first open the door to allow just a small element of false teaching to enter you may never be able to close that door. So often so much more that is wrong comes rushing through. This is why Jesus sounded the alarm with the words, "Take heed..." There is such grave danger at times like this.

The brothers of Joseph probably did not think that being jealous of Joseph's coat of many colors could lead to so much evil. However, that sinful "leaven" of jealousy lead them to plan to kill their younger brother. It lead them to bring unbearable grief to their father, Jacob. When you open the door to allow smaller matters to enter, far more may enter that open door.

There is little difference in the sin of these brothers and the embracing and teaching of false doctrine. Any sin when left alone weakens those involved. The Bible is filled with illustrations of this truth. The tragedy is that while personal sin is devastating to the individual teaching of false doctrines is devastating to an entire church or nation. How should we deal with it? Beware of it and close that door when it begins opening.

Does It Matter What Order?

Would you say that doing things in the right order matters? Or as long as you complete all of the steps, does it matter in what order you did them?

Have you ever assembled a bicycle? Have you ever purchased a piece of furniture from IKEA? Have you ever built a 3,000-piece LEGO set? If so, does it matter in what order you assemble these things? You probably know from experience that if you put together any of these things out of order that it does not end up like it should and you usually have to start over. The order matters!

Have you ever been to someone's house when they feed everyone grilled hamburgers? Did they put the ground beef on the bun before or after grilling the meat? Did they put the raw beef directly on the bun or the grilled beef on the bun? The order matters!

What about with God? Does the order matter? An example that comes up often today is this—as long as I've been baptized at some point, does it really matter when?

Consider one Biblical example. In Joshua 6, God gave the order for taking the city of Jericho. First, march around the city once a day for six days (6:3). Second, in the march, the priests shall go before the ark (6:4). Third, march around the city seven times on the seventh day and the priests shall then blow the trumpets (6:4). Fourth, after the sound of the trumpet, the people shall shout (6:5). Fifth, when all of this is done, the wall of the city will fall down (6:5). Did it matter if God's people followed His order in this? Or, as long as they did each of the steps, would it matter in what order they did them?

You know that God's order matters. God told Saul to "arise and be baptized, and wash away your sins" (Acts 22:16). The arising was to take place before the baptizing, and the baptizing took place before the washing away of sins. God said, "He who believes and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16). The believing is to take place before the baptizing, and the baptizing is to take place before the saving. God said, "Repent and be baptized for the remission of sins" (Acts 2:38). The repentance is to take place before the baptizing, and the baptizing is to take place before the remission. The order matters! If it does not, why did God give it an order?

In Acts 19, there were twelve men who had already been baptized, but their faith was in a Jesus who was still to come, when in fact, Jesus had already come. The order (i.e., direction) of their faith mattered, therefore, the order of their baptism mattered also, so they were baptized properly.

God's order matters! One must believe Jesus is God's Son, repent of sins, confess faith in Jesus Christ and then be baptized in order to be saved. Have you followed God's order?

Can We Show People Love?

"I find it easy to portray a businessman. Being bland, rather cruel and incompetent comes naturally to me" (John Cleese). It is easy to be mean, and the world makes it easier. Life seems to be a gauntlet of rude awakenings, playground politics, the rage of rush hour, the push-and-shove along the corporate ladder, and the snippy bickering of a thousand petty conflicts can thoroughly trample any sunny disposition you may have once possessed as a child. It seems inevitable that we will be formed into a scowl. After receiving our fair share of mistreatment, we can end up approaching life with a preemptive, chronic frown. We brace ourselves for unkindness, and we are slowly transformed into a grouch.

Not so, for a Christian. A Christian must resist this darkening of the demeanor (Col. 3:12). A Christian doesn't indulge in the pettiness of the world. A Christian is known for kindness (Gal. 5:22). It's not an optional accessory. If you're a Christian, then that means you are kind. A Christian is loving. It is what defines them (1 John 3:10). The difference is obvious. Those who truly belong to God are loving, in particular, toward other Christians. This means unkindness can be a dealbreaker. As far as Jesus is concerned, we can't draw the line anywhere. Even when it comes to our enemies, the appropriate response is love (Matt. 5:44). He goes on to explain that there's nothing necessarily admirable about loving the loveable (Matt. 5:46). There's nothing unusual about loving the loveable. Loving the unlovable, that's where you'll find a Christian.

You'll also notice there are no excuses. 1 John 4:7 doesn't say, "Beloved, let us love one another unless you're in a really bad mood." Ephesians 4:32 doesn't say, "Be kind to one another unless the other person is unkind to you first or if you have a genetic disposition for anger in your family." Scripture is not open to our good reasons. It might be difficult, it might feel downright impossible, but we are commanded to be kind to everyone. Love is the key ingredient. If we remove love from any situation, we are reduced to nothing more than an irritating noise (1 Cor. 13:1). If we do not love, we degrade our position. Even if we're right, we're wrong because we didn't set out to do the right thing with love.

For a Christian, at the heart of every action is a basic question. When dealing with conflict and annoying personalities and even your enemy, it comes down to this very simple question. Do you love them? This question would stifle gossip, deception and maliciousness. This is the first brick that goes into place determining everything else.

Love, or the lack of it, will determine whether or not any action we take after that is godly or not. Action without love is easy.

We've got something to tell!

If you had seen Jesus multiply five loaves and two fish to feed over 5,000 people, what would you do? Would you tell others about it? If you had seen Jesus heal a man born blind, what would you do? Would you tell others about it? If you had seen Jesus raise someone from the dead, what would you do? Would you tell others about it? I dare say that you would NOT have been able to keep those amazing things to yourself!

Brethren, what has Jesus done for us? Has He not given us spiritual abundance and to spare? Have we told others? Has He not opened our eyes to the danger of sin, the horror of hell and the hope of heaven? Have we told others? Has He not raised us from the watery grave of baptism to a new life in Him? Have we told others?

We have the greatest news, the most powerful message and the most exciting promises in the world! What is keeping us from telling every soul we meet? The only answer to that question is the one you see in a mirror. —DS

A stench that should wake us up

From inside the belly of a great fish, "Jonah prayed to the Lord" (Jonah 2:1). Wouldn't you? As he "cried out to the Lord" (2:2), Jonah realized, "I have been cast out of Your sight" (2:4). Why? What could have happened to lead Jonah out of God's sight? Back up into the first chapter.

When God commanded Jonah to "go to Nineveh" (1:2), "Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish from the presence of the Lord" (1:3). He got on a ship "to Tarshish from the presence of the Lord" (1:3). Jonah was rebelling against the Lord's command, which would (and could) only take him to one place—away from the presence of the Lord! Inside the fish, Jonah realized that he was exactly where he had been trying to go—out of God's sight and presence.

Maybe we do not always realize it, but when we choose to not obey a command of God, we are running from His presence at that moment! While a fish is not going to swallow us, may we come to our senses, smell the stench of sin, cry out to our God and return to Him! He will not leave us! Let us determine not to leave Him! —DS

Global Warming, Earth's History, and Jesus' Return

by Eric Lyons

As to whether or not the Earth is currently going through a warming trend, there is much debate. Although many, including former Vice President Al Gore, vehemently defend the man-made global warming theory (see “An Inconvenient Truth,” 2006), countless others, including thousands of scientists, have rejected the theory in part or in whole (see “Weather Channel Founder...,” 2007; Bonnici, 2008; Brennan, 2008). One truth that seems to get little attention, however, is the fact that the Earth has gone through various warming and cooling periods in the past.

Today, Antarctica is covered by seven million cubic miles of ice, which represents 90% of all the ice on Earth (“Antarctica,” 2008). The continental ice sheet at the South Pole is about 9,000 feet thick (Amundsen-Scott..., 2008).

The average temperature at the South Pole is nearly -50 degrees Celsius. Nevertheless, Antarctica has not always been the frozen tundra it is today. The pro-atheistic, evolutionary science journal New Scientist recently ran an article titled, “Once the South Pole Was Green...” (2008, 198[2661]:34-38). The journal admitted that scientists are well aware that “Antarctica was once warm and forested” and inhabited by at least six different kinds of dinosaurs (p. 34). “Antarctica once enjoyed a climate warmer than that of England today” (p. 38). The fossil record indicates that in the past Antarctica was “almost sub-tropical,” lush with ferns, cycads, and conifers (p. 37). What’s more, fossils of breadfruit trees, crocodile-like creatures, and turtles have been discovered well inside the Arctic Circle (pp. 35-36). It is “abundantly clear” to scientists that at one time “both the Arctic and the Antarctic were ice-free and warm” (p. 37)—“more than warm enough for a pleasant swim” (p. 38).

Although today certain ones (e.g., Al Gore) are attempting to scare people into a “global-warming submission,” the fact is, our planet has gone through various stages of warming and cooling throughout its history—long before the invention of carbon-emitting planes, trains, and automobiles. At one time, the polar ice sheets were more extensive than at present; at another time, the Earth’s Arctic and Antarctic regions were virtually ice-free. In view of such naturally changing climates on Earth during its history, why should it surprise us if our planet does occasionally get warmer or cooler?

Our forefathers, along with plants and animals, have been on the Earth “from the foundation of the world” (Luke 11:50-51; Genesis 1-2; Exodus 20:11). They survived the ice-age(s), as well as the so-called “hothouse phase.” Today, we are flourishing in what scientists call the “icehouse” phase. In truth, man will continue the cycle of life on Earth until our Lord returns and destroys the Earth with fire (2 Peter 3:10-13)—a global warming for which man must prepare, else he will suffer in the hothouse of hell forever (Matthew 25:46; 2 Thessalonians 1:7-10).
